

Winters Dawn

So hot in the summer that, I've forgotten about winters dawn, and,
although I'll take what I can, the only heart I want is yours,
say I sing about, life in love with you, never been so close, so close to the truth.

Its the ways that you go,
That capture my heart and my soul,
Its no secret, that's never been told,

Truth is I love you. Truth is I love you.
Truth is I love you. Truth is I love you.

So cold in the winter that, memories of summer heat are lost
Still got you by my side when, I'm running from the frost.
Now the rain it falls, but my heart it soars
Much higher than ever before, cos I know I'm in your thoughts.

Its the ways that you go,
That capture my heart and my soul,
Its no secret, that's never been told,

Truth is I love you. Truth is I love you.
Truth is I love you. Truth is I love you.

Now the heat is back again, and we have never been so strong,
and I don't fear the cold, cos you were right all along,
say I sing about, life in love with you, never been so close, so close to the truth.

Its the ways that you go,
That capture my heart and my soul,
Its no secret, that's never been told,

Truth is I love you. Truth is I love you.
Truth is I love you. Truth is I love you.
